

Heating Oil Price Options

Option	Description	Does it meet your needs?
Daily Posted Price	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Your heating oil price will vary based on the market. The price is determined on the delivery date.</li> <li>Most of our customers purchase their oil this way.</li> <li>There are no fees or signed agreements.</li> </ul>	The daily posted price gives you the most options. You are not obligated to the terms and conditions of a plan and can enter into a plan at any time if you change your mind.
Capped Price Plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A cap is a ceiling price, your price may go lower but will never be higher than your cap.</li> <li>Your heating fuel price is capped until May 31, or until your gallons are used up, whichever comes first. If the Daily Posted Price is lower than your capped price on day of delivery, you will pay that lower price.</li> <li>There is a fee for the Capped Price Protection plan.</li> <li>Terms and conditions apply.</li> </ul>	Cap Price Protection plans are for people who are willing to pay a fee to guarantee their price will not go higher than the Cap Price, and get the benefit of paying a lower price should prices go down.
Fixed Price Plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Your heating fuel price is fixed until May 31.</li> <li>Whether the market goes up or down, your price remains the same.</li> <li>Terms and conditions apply.</li> </ul>	Fixed Price Protection plans are good for people who want the security of knowing their price is fixed and will not go higher, but are willing to take the chance that prices could go lower.
Pre-Buy Plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>With this payment option, you pre-pay for the total amount of your Fixed Price plan.</li> <li>Terms and conditions apply.</li> </ul>	This option is for people who want to pay for their gallons up front and not have a recurring monthly fuel bill.
